PRESIDENT'S REPORT:

Firstly, can I say how enjoyable it was to host the visit of a great group. They call themselves the TOFS. Now I do believe that at some point in the morning I was told what TOFS stood for but the name that sticks in my mind was "Touring Old F..t's". There was another explanation but I will keep that one to myself. About 20 or so of their members descended on the workshop one Wednesday morning. They came from all over Sydney, even up as far as the Blue Mountains. They arrange a meeting once a month, choosing somewhere interesting and where lunch is available. They spent a good couple of hours exploring the workshop before retiring to the café for morning tea and then lunch. Thanks to all who came in and gave the TOFS an insight into word turning, scrolling and carving.

After some discussion in a board meeting I visited the workshop each day it is open and spoke about the way the machinery, particularly the lathes, are being left. I have to say this seems to have little impact as the equipment is still being left in an unclean, sometimes dangerous, condition. Apart from not being cleaned properly some of the problems include the lathe not being switched off, at both the machine and the mains, even left running over the weekend. The speed control left on maximum or in reverse.

As well as the machines the general state of the workshop is poor. It not just your job to clean the equipment you have used but also the area around you. It is not fair to just blow the dust somewhere else. It is also not the job of the instructors to keep the place clean. Someone has to sweep the bandsaws, sander and grinder, but they are continually left. This equipment was bought from money received in a generous donation and we need to look after it. If you are in doubt as to how the equipment should be left ask the workshop manager on duty or any of the instructors.

Lastly what do you give a person celebrating 50 years as a catholic priest? I was facing such a dilemma for my older brother during my trip to the UK in June. I decided that a pair of small candlesticks, made by his 'little' brother was the answer. They will hold stick type candles, or tea-light candles. The idea is they are small and portable and he can carry them with him if he needs to officiate at a catholic service away from a church. The picture shows the pair of candlesticks I turned from elm, which I obtained from the workshop for a donation to the Toy Fund. I assume elm in Australia is the same species as that found in the UK. Thanks to Dutch elm disease elm is in short supply in the UK.

Lastly, can I apologise for the scant nature of the minutes of the last meeting. I am finally convinced that I cannot chair a meeting and keep the minutes. In future, in the absence of the secretary, I will need a volunteer to keep notes. If there is no volunteer then the meeting can still go ahead but there will be no minutes and therefore, no lasting or binding record of discussion or resolutions.

Peter Hamilton

“Hi Sally, listen I only have a minute. I’m about to get picked up for a blind date. So, I need a favor. Will you call me in a half hour just in case it’s going bad? Yes? Ok great! We’ll speak.”

Katie gave herself a quick spray of perfume, checked herself out one more time in the mirror, and headed out to the restaurant to meet the guy.

The evening started out with a weak handshake and went on with weaker conversation. So, after twenty minutes, Katie was discreetly checking her watch.

After ten more long minutes her phone finally buzzed. Katie picked up and listened for a few seconds, grimly pursed her lips, and turned to her date, “I feel terrible, but my Grandmother’s sick, and I’ve got to leave.”

“No problem!” Her date grinned, “In a few more minutes my dog was going to get run over!”

A Visit from the T.O.F's:

We recently had a request to open on a Wednesday for a visit from a group of men who lived locally and in the Sydney area.

They called themselves the TOFS, which is short for Touring Old Farts, although one member claimed that it stood for "Too Old For Sex."

They turned out to be a great bunch of guys from all walks of life, who get together four times a month to go on outings, see the sights and generally enjoy life.

The many places TOFS has visited range from the Sydney Cricket Ground, Bradman Museum, Sydney Jewish Museum and Barrenjoey Lighthouse to the Newcastle Maritime Museum, Valley Heights Rail Museum, Margin's Mushroom Farm and Justice and Police Museum.

TOFS was founded on the Central Coast nine years ago, and sub-groups exist in Gosford, Ku-ring-gai and Greater Sydney.

Present membership is around 195, of whom about 150 are active.

It's all organised through emails and on the website.

Their founders believed that many retired or semi-retired men often spent too much time at home and needed an incentive to get out and about.

As TOFS members, they have the opportunity to not only enjoy a variety of regular and interesting outings but at the same time, develop great friendships with their fellow members.

The TOFS website says the incorporated, not for profit social group caters for retired or semi-retired men from 55 to 87 "and we come in all shapes and sizes and in various conditions of health and fitness."

"We take advantage of travel concessions allowed on the Seniors Card, by having regular day outings to places of interest including museums, big business...and regular organised walks.

"We lunch at clubs, pubs...and then return home.

"Our aims include fun, fellowship, education, wellbeing and male camaraderie."

Previous occupations of members have included bankers, engineers, store keepers, fisherman, tradesman, entertainer, optometrist, teachers, sailor, naval officer, printers, accountants, bus drivers, policeman, doctor, publican, air steward and veterinarian.

Note from the Treasurer:

You all should be aware, if you're not I am letting you know now that, the Central Coast Woodturners year runs from 1st July to 30th June, as such our end of the year is now approaching and for me that means I will spend most of my time in the workshop writing receipts for your 2019-20 dues. If you did not have the option of attending our April monthly meeting you may not have heard that the board has decided to leave all fee's as they were in 2019.

So I would like to remind you all of the methods you can use to pay your dues. There are two that have been in use for the past many years, a third that was introduced last year is the pay by transfer and this year we have another new method.

The first method is, Find me at the workshop and pay me directly by cash or a cheque made out to Central Coast Woodturners. I am usually at the workshop on Fridays and the Saturday of the monthly meeting... sorry, but some of us still need to earn a living. I will write a receipt for you then and there.

The second, put your cash or cheque into a sealed envelope, print your name clearly on the outside and hand it to one of the shop keepers or any board member. I will collect these, write receipt's and put those receipts on the spike outside of the shop for you to collect next time you're in the workshop,

The third transfer your dues ($40) directly into our bank account, ask for a copy of the transaction to be sent directly to my E-mail account. I will write a receipt once I confirm the transaction has been successful and put it on the spike outside the shop and per option 2.

The e-mail and account details you will need for this are :-

Account name: Central Coast Woodturner Ltd
BSB 032564
Account Number 135409

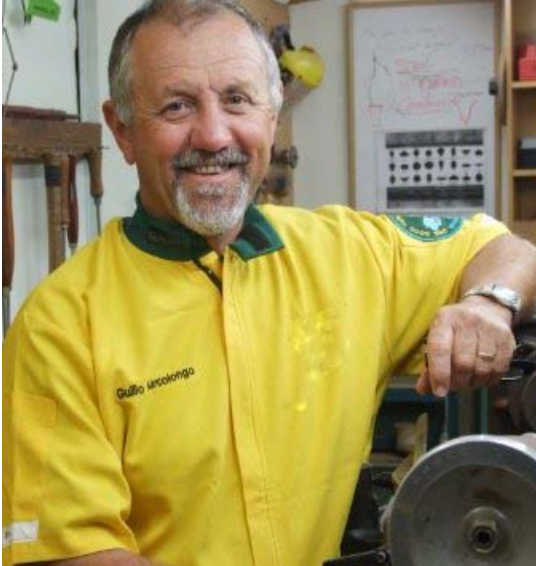

Don't forget to send copy the receipt to:
Corina.buckman@bigpond.com

AND now the new method for this year:

The fourth, as most will be aware we have this year introduced EFT-POS into the workshop and now you can also pay your dues using this method, if you want to do this please see me or one the store guys and pay. Make sure you get an EFTPOS receipt for your records and ensure that whoever takes your payment writes your name on our copy so I can update my records.

A Day with Giulio:

Giulio Marcolongo is a world class Woodturner who, for many, many years, has been in great demand. He spends a lot of his time travelling both overseas and around Australia doing demonstration and run hands-on workshops.

He is a master craftsman and I've been lucky enough to see several of his demo's and participate in his hands-on workshops.

His wood turning skills are extraordinary and his commentary as he works is humorous, entertaining and informative.

Giulio is coming on the weekend of 15th and 16th June. He will start at 9am and finish sometime in the afternoon. The cost is $30 to attend the Demonstration, including lunch, and $60 for the Hands-on day for a maximum of 10 people.

Positions are filling fast, so put your name down for either: the demonstration day, the hands-on day or both. The hands-on day only has a few spots left so get in quickly.

(Remember: BYOFC... bring your own folding chair.)

All of those wanting to make enquiries and bookings should contact Ron Gibbs on 4388 2675.

Visitors are always very welcome.

Some of Giulio's creations:

Bruce went to Bondi Beach.

He had the Eski next to him, and had a great time watching the sheilas in their bikinis, but after two six packs of VB he fell asleep for several hours in the midday sun and got horrible sunburn, specifically to his upper legs.

He went to the hospital, and was promptly admitted after being diagnosed with second-degree burns.

With his skin already starting to blister, and the severe pain he was in, the doctor prescribed continuous intravenous feeding with saline, electrolytes, a sedative, and a Viagra pill every four hours.

The nurse, who was astounded, asked, 'What good will Viagra do for him, doctor'?

The doctor replied, 'It won't do anything for his condition, but it'll keep the sheets off his burned legs.'

New friends across "The Ditch":

The Tauranga Woodcrafters Guild Inc.

I recently received the following email:

Good Evening

I have your newsletter forwarded to me by Heather Rogers each time it comes out and I further forward it members of the Tauranga Woodcrafters Guild

They all really enjoy the newsletter and I thought you may be interested in a comment I received about it.

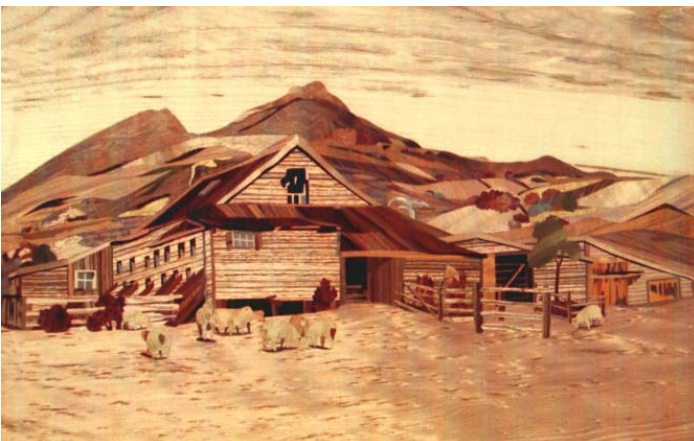

The person is a senior member of the club and stated:

“Heck David, these Club Member’s sure have some fun and it’s good to see the PC Brigade hasn’t tempered their wit! I really enjoy their World Reality.”

Cheers... David Monk

Of course, I Googled them and found that there was a very talented group of woodworkers just across the Ditch and only a couple of mouse clicks away.

I am very impressed with their work and thought that I’d show you a few pieces.

They are obviously a skilful and dedicated group of kindred spirits, so you should check them out on their web page :

EDITOR'S NOTE:

Hi Folks,

Well winter has announced its presence in a big way and it's time to get the winter woollies out and crank up the fire. Salads give way to lovely hot soups and stews, and Mother Nature starts to settle down for a well deserved winter's nap.

Even though our winters aren't as extreme as some, we need to take stock and also check on our family and friends to make sure that they have what they need to get through the cold months.

Since joining our club I have found that we have some amazing, exceptional people in our midst who will go out of their way to look after the well being of others.

These last couple of months have been a bit up and down for Lynda and me, but I'm pleased to say that we are both totally healthy again now and I want to thank all of those who looked out for us along the way.

We are very proud of our extended family... because family is not about DNA.

Nobody on earth can really control who they are related to... but we can control who we let into our family.

In the last 12 years, since finding our club, our family has grown considerably. We've been proud to welcome lots of quirky brothers and sisters, some crazy aunts and embarrassing uncles, a few mad cousins and several wise and compassionate mentors who are more like parents or grandparents than anything else.

As I said, we are very proud of everyone in our extended family.

There are friends, there are family and then there are friends who become family.

Our family is a link to the past and bridge to the future.

Take care and stay safe guys... Alan.
